

understood that the members, or some of them, certainly, felt that the body had been ignored. There has been no meeting since then, and consequently no opportunity to remedy the omission.

The Next Reunion. Already plans are being made looking to the next reunion of Confederate Veterans, and the indications are that more than one city will offer inducements. As the years go by it becomes more and more apparent that with the increasing age of the veterans, but few more gatherings can be held, and the demand to entertain the Confederate host just in case there is shown from a number of quarters.

One definite invitation has already been announced. The State of Texas invites the United Confederate Veterans to meet in the Alamo city of San Antonio for their next annual reunion. The invitation has been unanimously extended by the Legislature of the State of Texas, and has been endorsed and enthusiastically seconded by the Business Men's Club and citizens of San Antonio.

A telegram received by Mr. M. D. Monro, second vice-president of the San Antonio and Arkansas Pass Railway Company, who is now stopping at the Hotel Richmond, and who is a delegate from the Albert Sidney Johnston Camp of San Antonio, states that the Business Men's Club has decided to extend an invitation to the veterans, being assured that the necessary amount of funds can be commanded, and that Mr. J. Kirkpatrick, one of the directors, would be present at the reunion personally to extend the invitation and assurances that the veterans will be received with open arms.

Many Hands Coming. Mr. Edgar D. Taylor, chairman of the music committee, gave out yesterday a list of eleven bands that have been definitely engaged to be here during the reunion. These bands will participate in the two great parades, and in addition to the attendance of them will be in constant attendance of the Auditorium and the Horse Show Building, where the great conventions are held, and the speeches and business sessions will be interspersed with martial music of all kinds. The Old Point Band, from Fort Monroe, will come up for the parade of Monday, with twenty-seven pieces. The White Ribbon Band of Petersburg, with twenty-two men, will be in Richmond through the reunion. The Engle Encampment Band, of Newport News, with twenty-two men, will arrive here Thursday morning in time for the first parade, and will remain through the reunion. The Kessiah's Band, of this city, has been engaged for its whole time, with twenty-five pieces.

The First Regiment Band, of Asheville, N. C., will come Monday morning, with twenty-five pieces. The Boys' Band, of Memphis, comes with the Tennessee veterans, twenty-four strong.

The Strasburg, Va. Band, with sixteen pieces, will be here through the reunion.

The band of the crack Fifth Maryland Regiment arrives early Monday morning for the Davis Monument parade.

General Bennett H. Young, commanding the Kentucky Division, will bring a band with him from Louisville, and a North Carolina band will be at the headquarters of General Julian S. Carr, at the Lee Monument. Both of these bands will be here through the reunion.

Several other bands are expected with various brigades and State divisions of the United Confederate Veterans. From all the prospects it seems that there will be an abundance of music for all the occasions, and by tomorrow night the streets of Richmond will be alive with marching bands playing Southern and military airs.

VETERANS SPEND NIGHT AT CAMP

Schools of City Will All Be Closed During the Reunion.

Visitors are beginning to arrive in large numbers for the reunion. Last night several gray-coated veterans slept on the cots at camp. W. Gordon, who was here enjoying themselves after their travel to Richmond. As the dining-hall was not in order last night, Colonel Eaker served supper to the visitors at the Soldiers' Home. Cooking arrangements will be established at the camp to-day, and by tomorrow it will no doubt have its full complement of men.

Every arrangement for the reunion is now completed, and the committees are ready for the incoming hosts. The various State headquarters were opened yesterday afternoon, and hereafter committees may be found at each point to meet the veterans and to assist them in finding their quarters.

Among those who arrived yesterday were a number of camp commanders and adjutants, who come to look out for quarters for their men. A glance at the register at headquarters yesterday shows that more than 100 registered yesterday from North Carolina, and any other State, Virginia is a close second.

To Care for Veterans. The management of the Memorial, Virginia and City Hospitals yesterday tendered the use of their wards to the medical and ambulance committee, under Dr. C. W. P. Brock, for any old veterans who may fall sick while here. The hospitals will take care of the veterans free of charge, and will do all in their power to make them comfortable.

Arrangements for ambulance service along the lines of the parades have also been completed. A corps of efficient doctors will visit Camp John W. Gordon and call at each of the State headquarters daily to render such services as may be needed.

A telegram was received yesterday by Dr. C. W. P. Brock, announcing that Colonel William Pickett, who at the "Berry's for Clothes"—the distinguishing sort.

THE MOST COMPLETE OUTFIT for the summer man is a grey suit and light vest—not the common or garden grey, but the new variation, becoming to most any figure. In city, town or country, mountains or seashore, it is appropriate and satisfactory. Handsome Suits, $18. to $28. Perky Vests, $1.50 to $10.

A Straw Hat and Low Shoes—together with a well assorted supply of good shirts—and for all outside purposes you're well fixed for the summer. Let us fix you up to your perfect satisfaction.

Trunk and bag season is on. We can put you on to the very best and latest things for travelers. Visit our Big Basement Department.

—The Quality Store—

clothes of the war was adjutant on the staff of General Hardee, is ill with pneumonia at his home in Kentucky, and will be unable to attend the reunion.

Schools to Close. The City School Board has directed that the schools of the city close after the sessions of Wednesday, and continue closed until next Tuesday morning. This action is taken in order that the children may participate as much as possible in the reunion exercises.

Elaborate arrangements have been made for supplying an abundance of cold water along the line of march of the two parades on May 30th and June 3d. Five thousand gallons of Lion lithia water has been donated by the agents, and water stands will be placed on trucks and stationed at convenient points along Franklin Street, Cemetery. Thirty of these trucks will be distributed along the line of march at the most accessible points.

The Fifth Maryland Association, the veterans of the crack Maryland Regiment, will reach Richmond on the morning of June 3d, and will participate in the great parade incident to the unveiling of the Davis statue. They will be quartered at the Maryland State headquarters.

Got His Ticket.

A unique story was told at the offices of the Western Union Telegraph Company yesterday. A North Carolina veteran, unable to bear the expense of a trip to the reunion, wrote to the superintendent of the telegraph company here, asking for transportation basis his claim on the fact that the company had placed some telegraph poles in his meadow about five years ago.

The company could not consider his claim at this late date, and on reference to reunion headquarters it was found that they had no provision for paying railroad fares. The employees of the Western Union thereupon raised a subscription, purchased a round trip ticket, and by to-morrow night the old man will be happily quartered in Camp John W. Gordon, as the guest of this city of Richmond.

Headquarters List Corrected.

The following corrected list of State headquarters will be of interest: General Stephen D. Lee's headquarters—Jefferson Hotel.

Division Headquarters.

Alabama—St. Mary's School, Marshall Street, between Third and Fourth; room second floor.

Arkansas—No. 905 East Broad Street.

Florida—University College of Medicine, Twelfth and Clay Streets.

Georgia—Mechanics' Institute, Eleventh and Broad Streets.

Indiana Territory—Belvidere Hall, Main and Belvidere Streets; ante-rooms, Kentucky—Allen's Hotel, Tenth and Broad Streets.

Louisiana—Crenshaw Building, corner Main and Adams Streets.

Maryland—St. Mary's School, Marshall Street, between Third and Fourth; first floor.

Mississippi—No. 802 East Marshall Street; ground floor.

Missouri—Murphy's Hotel, Eighth and Broad Streets.

North Carolina—Sanger Hall, Seventh Street, between Broad and Marshall.

Northwest and Pacific Coast—Jefferson Hotel, Jefferson and Franklin Streets.

Oklahoma—Cowardin Plats, Main

GENERAL LEE'S CALL FOR TRIBUTE TO PRESIDENT DAVIS

"General Order No. 67."

"The General Commanding has notified with great pleasure the unusual efforts that the survivors of the gallant ranks of the Confederacy are making to set foot once more on the hallowed soil of Virginia, and his satisfaction has been augmented by the wish and determination of these old heroes to take part in the ceremonies incident to the unveiling of the monument to Jefferson Davis, the first and only President of the Confederate States. This order is now issued in the hope of enlightening the movement to honor our dear President the population of our entire Southern country."

"The General Commanding earnestly desires and respectfully requests that at the hour of 2 o'clock in the afternoon of Mr. Davis's birthday, Monday, June 3, 1907, the Confederate soldiers in the United States and in other portions of the world, their wives and children, every man, woman and child of our beloved Southland, capitalists and laborers, all who have withured and bowed heads, unite to do homage to the fidelity and ability of our immortal leader. Thus shall we honor the cause for which he valiantly suffered, the lofty patriotism of the men in the ranks of our armies and the noble women of the Confederacy."

"And to carry out the purposes of this order more effectively, he appeals to the managers of all railroads, machine shops, foundries and other employing labor, to see that all work is promptly suspended at this hour, with lured and bowed heads, unite to do homage to the fidelity and ability of our immortal leader. Thus shall we honor the cause for which he valiantly suffered, the lofty patriotism of the men in the ranks of our armies and the noble women of the Confederacy."

"Such action, if carried out with the concert that the General Commanding desires, will present a spectacle unique in the annals of history; it will be an object lesson to the rising generation as far reaching as beneficial, and will cause the people of other countries to admire and honor the constancy and devotion of men to principles, for which they fought against overwhelming odds, with a gallantry unexcelled in the records of war."

"As it is important that the contents of this order be known far and wide, the General Commanding hereby appeals to the publishers of this paper, and to the publicity to it, and to ask that it be obeyed, making such other comment as they think will aid in carrying out its intentions. By command of

"STEPHEN D. LEE, "General Commanding."

CONFEDERATED SOUTHERN MEMORIAL ASSOCIATION

Program for Eighth Annual Convention to Be Held in Richmond This Week—Sessions Will Be Held at Second Baptist Church.

The eighth annual convention of the Confederate Southern Memorial Association will be held in Richmond May 30th to June 3d. The following is the convention program:

Wednesday, May 29th, 8:30 to 10:30 P. M. Reception in Lee Camp Hall by Richmond Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, to Veterans, Sons of Veterans, Confederate Memorial Association, sponsors, maids and all Confederate organizations.

Thursday, May 30th, 10 A. M. Convention called to order in Second Baptist Church. Opening prayer by the Rev. Dr. J. Powell Smith. Unfinished business.

1 P. M.—Adjourn for luncheon at Lee Camp Hall. The hour will be followed by a street car ride to Oakwood, where the ladies of Oakwood Memorial Association will receive visitors.

Concert at Convention Hall, Reservoir Park, at 8 P. M.

8:30 P. M.—Occupation at Executive Mansion by Governor and Mrs. Claude A. Swanson. At the same hour an entertainment by Polk Miller, at the Auditorium, Cary and Linden Streets.

Friday, June 1st. 10 A. M.—Business session in Second Baptist Church. Opening prayer by the Rev. Dr. J. Powell Smith. Unfinished business.

1 P. M.—Adjourn for luncheon at Lee Camp Hall. The hour will be followed by a street car ride to Oakwood, where the ladies of Oakwood Memorial Association will receive visitors.

Concert at Convention Hall, Reservoir Park, at 8 P. M.

8:30 P. M.—Occupation at Executive Mansion by Governor and Mrs. Claude A. Swanson. At the same hour an entertainment by Polk Miller, at the Auditorium, Cary and Linden Streets.

Saturday, June 2d. 11 A. M.—Special services in all Richmond churches.

Memorial services at 3:30 P. M. in Auditorium at Linden and Cary Streets, by Confederate Veterans and Confederate Southern Memorial Associations. Sacred concert at 8:15 P. M. in Convention Hall, Reservoir Park, under direction of Professor Walter C. Mercer.

Sunday, June 3d. 11:30 A. M.—Grand parade and unveiling of Davis Monument. Parade moves promptly from Ninth and Grace Streets at this hour.

1 P. M.—Addresses at monument by Governor Claude A. Swanson and by General Clement C. Evans, orator of the day.

2 P. M.—Monument unveiled by Mrs. Margaret Howell Jefferson Hayes, assisted by her sons.

now fifty-eight years of age. Mr. Corbett will arrive on Wednesday evening.

The last general rehearsal for the reunion choir, which will deliver the grand sacred concert in the Horse Show Building next Sunday night, will take place to-night at the Y. M. C. A. Hall, corner of Sixth and Main. Mr. Walter C. Mercer, the director, is enthusiastic in his praise of the work of this choir, comprising as it does some 600 voices. Mr. Mercer thinks that the result will be the finest vocal music ever heard in Richmond. The concert will be given in the Horse Show Building Sunday night, and will be of a purely religious nature.

All the music has been selected with this in view. Mr. Edgar D. Taylor, chairman of the music committee, has requested that Sunday night, and will be of a purely religious nature.

To Do Guard Duty. Col. Gordon has been trying for several days to organize a provisional company out of the Seventeenth Regiment to do guard duty at Camp Gordon. The captain of one of the companies is very much against this, but unfortunately was taken sick.

Col. Gordon has seen Judge Scott, of the Circuit Court, who is ready to appoint any member of this guard and give him the authority in the county limits. The time now is very short, and the general chairman would like to see his assistance in this matter.

There will be several thousand veterans in the camp, and besides their personal belongings, there will be several thousand dollars' worth of piles, which will be exposed to the depredations of thieves during the week, the need of a strong military guard is felt.

The following additional names have been added to the staff of Col. John W. Gordon, chief marshal of the first parade: Park, Atlanta, Ga.; Col. R. C. Chew, Charleston, W. Va.; Col. B. L. Farinholt, West Point, Va.

Inspector-General T. C. Morton, of the Grand Camp of Virginia, is in the city making arrangements for the housing of the Virginia veterans. Captain Morton is stopping with Dr. George E. Harkdale. Among the arrangements made by Captain Morton for the care and comfort of the Virginia veterans is a provision whereby the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal as the oldest living veteran, Mr. William L. Corbett, of Culpeper county, now in his ninety-fifth year, a veteran of the Twenty-ninth Virginia, will be the guest of the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal for the youngest surviving veteran, Mr. W. S. Hopkins, of 221 South Pine Street, who is

Inspector-General T. C. Morton, of the Grand Camp of Virginia, is in the city making arrangements for the housing of the Virginia veterans. Captain Morton is stopping with Dr. George E. Harkdale. Among the arrangements made by Captain Morton for the care and comfort of the Virginia veterans is a provision whereby the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal as the oldest living veteran, Mr. William L. Corbett, of Culpeper county, now in his ninety-fifth year, a veteran of the Twenty-ninth Virginia, will be the guest of the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal for the youngest surviving veteran, Mr. W. S. Hopkins, of 221 South Pine Street, who is

Inspector-General T. C. Morton, of the Grand Camp of Virginia, is in the city making arrangements for the housing of the Virginia veterans. Captain Morton is stopping with Dr. George E. Harkdale. Among the arrangements made by Captain Morton for the care and comfort of the Virginia veterans is a provision whereby the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal as the oldest living veteran, Mr. William L. Corbett, of Culpeper county, now in his ninety-fifth year, a veteran of the Twenty-ninth Virginia, will be the guest of the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal for the youngest surviving veteran, Mr. W. S. Hopkins, of 221 South Pine Street, who is

Inspector-General T. C. Morton, of the Grand Camp of Virginia, is in the city making arrangements for the housing of the Virginia veterans. Captain Morton is stopping with Dr. George E. Harkdale. Among the arrangements made by Captain Morton for the care and comfort of the Virginia veterans is a provision whereby the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal as the oldest living veteran, Mr. William L. Corbett, of Culpeper county, now in his ninety-fifth year, a veteran of the Twenty-ninth Virginia, will be the guest of the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal for the youngest surviving veteran, Mr. W. S. Hopkins, of 221 South Pine Street, who is

Inspector-General T. C. Morton, of the Grand Camp of Virginia, is in the city making arrangements for the housing of the Virginia veterans. Captain Morton is stopping with Dr. George E. Harkdale. Among the arrangements made by Captain Morton for the care and comfort of the Virginia veterans is a provision whereby the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal as the oldest living veteran, Mr. William L. Corbett, of Culpeper county, now in his ninety-fifth year, a veteran of the Twenty-ninth Virginia, will be the guest of the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal for the youngest surviving veteran, Mr. W. S. Hopkins, of 221 South Pine Street, who is

Inspector-General T. C. Morton, of the Grand Camp of Virginia, is in the city making arrangements for the housing of the Virginia veterans. Captain Morton is stopping with Dr. George E. Harkdale. Among the arrangements made by Captain Morton for the care and comfort of the Virginia veterans is a provision whereby the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal as the oldest living veteran, Mr. William L. Corbett, of Culpeper county, now in his ninety-fifth year, a veteran of the Twenty-ninth Virginia, will be the guest of the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal for the youngest surviving veteran, Mr. W. S. Hopkins, of 221 South Pine Street, who is

Inspector-General T. C. Morton, of the Grand Camp of Virginia, is in the city making arrangements for the housing of the Virginia veterans. Captain Morton is stopping with Dr. George E. Harkdale. Among the arrangements made by Captain Morton for the care and comfort of the Virginia veterans is a provision whereby the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal as the oldest living veteran, Mr. William L. Corbett, of Culpeper county, now in his ninety-fifth year, a veteran of the Twenty-ninth Virginia, will be the guest of the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal for the youngest surviving veteran, Mr. W. S. Hopkins, of 221 South Pine Street, who is

Inspector-General T. C. Morton, of the Grand Camp of Virginia, is in the city making arrangements for the housing of the Virginia veterans. Captain Morton is stopping with Dr. George E. Harkdale. Among the arrangements made by Captain Morton for the care and comfort of the Virginia veterans is a provision whereby the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal as the oldest living veteran, Mr. William L. Corbett, of Culpeper county, now in his ninety-fifth year, a veteran of the Twenty-ninth Virginia, will be the guest of the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal for the youngest surviving veteran, Mr. W. S. Hopkins, of 221 South Pine Street, who is

Inspector-General T. C. Morton, of the Grand Camp of Virginia, is in the city making arrangements for the housing of the Virginia veterans. Captain Morton is stopping with Dr. George E. Harkdale. Among the arrangements made by Captain Morton for the care and comfort of the Virginia veterans is a provision whereby the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal as the oldest living veteran, Mr. William L. Corbett, of Culpeper county, now in his ninety-fifth year, a veteran of the Twenty-ninth Virginia, will be the guest of the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal for the youngest surviving veteran, Mr. W. S. Hopkins, of 221 South Pine Street, who is

Inspector-General T. C. Morton, of the Grand Camp of Virginia, is in the city making arrangements for the housing of the Virginia veterans. Captain Morton is stopping with Dr. George E. Harkdale. Among the arrangements made by Captain Morton for the care and comfort of the Virginia veterans is a provision whereby the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal as the oldest living veteran, Mr. William L. Corbett, of Culpeper county, now in his ninety-fifth year, a veteran of the Twenty-ninth Virginia, will be the guest of the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal for the youngest surviving veteran, Mr. W. S. Hopkins, of 221 South Pine Street, who is

Inspector-General T. C. Morton, of the Grand Camp of Virginia, is in the city making arrangements for the housing of the Virginia veterans. Captain Morton is stopping with Dr. George E. Harkdale. Among the arrangements made by Captain Morton for the care and comfort of the Virginia veterans is a provision whereby the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal as the oldest living veteran, Mr. William L. Corbett, of Culpeper county, now in his ninety-fifth year, a veteran of the Twenty-ninth Virginia, will be the guest of the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal for the youngest surviving veteran, Mr. W. S. Hopkins, of 221 South Pine Street, who is

Inspector-General T. C. Morton, of the Grand Camp of Virginia, is in the city making arrangements for the housing of the Virginia veterans. Captain Morton is stopping with Dr. George E. Harkdale. Among the arrangements made by Captain Morton for the care and comfort of the Virginia veterans is a provision whereby the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal as the oldest living veteran, Mr. William L. Corbett, of Culpeper county, now in his ninety-fifth year, a veteran of the Twenty-ninth Virginia, will be the guest of the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal for the youngest surviving veteran, Mr. W. S. Hopkins, of 221 South Pine Street, who is

Inspector-General T. C. Morton, of the Grand Camp of Virginia, is in the city making arrangements for the housing of the Virginia veterans. Captain Morton is stopping with Dr. George E. Harkdale. Among the arrangements made by Captain Morton for the care and comfort of the Virginia veterans is a provision whereby the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal as the oldest living veteran, Mr. William L. Corbett, of Culpeper county, now in his ninety-fifth year, a veteran of the Twenty-ninth Virginia, will be the guest of the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal for the youngest surviving veteran, Mr. W. S. Hopkins, of 221 South Pine Street, who is

Inspector-General T. C. Morton, of the Grand Camp of Virginia, is in the city making arrangements for the housing of the Virginia veterans. Captain Morton is stopping with Dr. George E. Harkdale. Among the arrangements made by Captain Morton for the care and comfort of the Virginia veterans is a provision whereby the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal as the oldest living veteran, Mr. William L. Corbett, of Culpeper county, now in his ninety-fifth year, a veteran of the Twenty-ninth Virginia, will be the guest of the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal for the youngest surviving veteran, Mr. W. S. Hopkins, of 221 South Pine Street, who is

Inspector-General T. C. Morton, of the Grand Camp of Virginia, is in the city making arrangements for the housing of the Virginia veterans. Captain Morton is stopping with Dr. George E. Harkdale. Among the arrangements made by Captain Morton for the care and comfort of the Virginia veterans is a provision whereby the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal as the oldest living veteran, Mr. William L. Corbett, of Culpeper county, now in his ninety-fifth year, a veteran of the Twenty-ninth Virginia, will be the guest of the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal for the youngest surviving veteran, Mr. W. S. Hopkins, of 221 South Pine Street, who is

Inspector-General T. C. Morton, of the Grand Camp of Virginia, is in the city making arrangements for the housing of the Virginia veterans. Captain Morton is stopping with Dr. George E. Harkdale. Among the arrangements made by Captain Morton for the care and comfort of the Virginia veterans is a provision whereby the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal as the oldest living veteran, Mr. William L. Corbett, of Culpeper county, now in his ninety-fifth year, a veteran of the Twenty-ninth Virginia, will be the guest of the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal for the youngest surviving veteran, Mr. W. S. Hopkins, of 221 South Pine Street, who is

Inspector-General T. C. Morton, of the Grand Camp of Virginia, is in the city making arrangements for the housing of the Virginia veterans. Captain Morton is stopping with Dr. George E. Harkdale. Among the arrangements made by Captain Morton for the care and comfort of the Virginia veterans is a provision whereby the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal as the oldest living veteran, Mr. William L. Corbett, of Culpeper county, now in his ninety-fifth year, a veteran of the Twenty-ninth Virginia, will be the guest of the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal for the youngest surviving veteran, Mr. W. S. Hopkins, of 221 South Pine Street, who is

Inspector-General T. C. Morton, of the Grand Camp of Virginia, is in the city making arrangements for the housing of the Virginia veterans. Captain Morton is stopping with Dr. George E. Harkdale. Among the arrangements made by Captain Morton for the care and comfort of the Virginia veterans is a provision whereby the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal as the oldest living veteran, Mr. William L. Corbett, of Culpeper county, now in his ninety-fifth year, a veteran of the Twenty-ninth Virginia, will be the guest of the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal for the youngest surviving veteran, Mr. W. S. Hopkins, of 221 South Pine Street, who is

Inspector-General T. C. Morton, of the Grand Camp of Virginia, is in the city making arrangements for the housing of the Virginia veterans. Captain Morton is stopping with Dr. George E. Harkdale. Among the arrangements made by Captain Morton for the care and comfort of the Virginia veterans is a provision whereby the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal as the oldest living veteran, Mr. William L. Corbett, of Culpeper county, now in his ninety-fifth year, a veteran of the Twenty-ninth Virginia, will be the guest of the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal for the youngest surviving veteran, Mr. W. S. Hopkins, of 221 South Pine Street, who is

Inspector-General T. C. Morton, of the Grand Camp of Virginia, is in the city making arrangements for the housing of the Virginia veterans. Captain Morton is stopping with Dr. George E. Harkdale. Among the arrangements made by Captain Morton for the care and comfort of the Virginia veterans is a provision whereby the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal as the oldest living veteran, Mr. William L. Corbett, of Culpeper county, now in his ninety-fifth year, a veteran of the Twenty-ninth Virginia, will be the guest of the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal for the youngest surviving veteran, Mr. W. S. Hopkins, of 221 South Pine Street, who is

Inspector-General T. C. Morton, of the Grand Camp of Virginia, is in the city making arrangements for the housing of the Virginia veterans. Captain Morton is stopping with Dr. George E. Harkdale. Among the arrangements made by Captain Morton for the care and comfort of the Virginia veterans is a provision whereby the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal as the oldest living veteran, Mr. William L. Corbett, of Culpeper county, now in his ninety-fifth year, a veteran of the Twenty-ninth Virginia, will be the guest of the man who won The Times-Dispatch medal for the youngest surviving veteran, Mr. W. S. Hopkins, of 221 South Pine Street, who is headquarters in Sanger Hall last night, General Julian S. Carr, commanding the North Carolina Division, is expected to arrive at headquarters to-day. Captain Murray, of the Virginia Division, originally from Fredericksburg, Va., who served as captain and aid on the staff of General A. D. Hill, and who for the past forty-one years has made his home in California, is at the Richmond Hotel, and will remain for the reunion exercises.

To Ride With Staff. Colonel John W. Gordon, chief marshal of Thursday's parade, has invited Miss Mary Custis Lee, Mrs. General J. E. B. Stuart, Mrs. General W. H. P. Lee, Miss Daisy Hampton and Mrs. General W. D. Pender to ride with the staff of the chief marshal on that day.

The names of Colonel Barton H. Grundy, Richmond, and Colonel B. L. Farinholt, West Point, Va., were included in the list of the staff of the chief marshal.

Captain J. Thompson Brown, who has been the efficient chairman of the parade committee for the reunion, received yesterday his commission as colonel and aid on the staff of General Stephen D. Lee. Colonel Brown deserves the highest praise for the careful preparation which has been made for the two great parades of reunion week.

Full plans have been made of the line of march, and on the wall in the office of the parade committee in the Mutual Building hangs a great map, showing the formation of each division, full and definite instructions to the staff as to parking and handling the troops, veterans and carriages during the unveiling exercises, and for the reformation of the parade and the march to Hollywood. Military men of experience who have examined the printed instructions and the plans made for the two parades say that the preparations for handling the parade are complete in every detail, and excel anything that has ever been attempted outside of regular army departments.

Tribute to President Davis.

General Lee has issued general orders enlisting the assistance of the entire South in a movement to honor the memory of President Jefferson Davis by having all work cease, all machinery stop, and all stand reverently throughout the whole Southland for the space of five minutes following 2 o'clock on Monday, June 3d, President Davis's birthday. The plan is to draw from the Jefferson Davis Monument in Richmond. General Lee asks that all locomotives stop, all cotton mills cease running, all steam vessels stop turning their screws, and that all manual labor be suspended during this five minutes wherever the cause for which the President of the Confederacy stood is honored. General Lee desires that as wide publicity be given to this request and as general observance as is possible.

Souvenir badges for the reunion have been prepared in thousands having been ordered for the veterans who will attend. Four thousand other badges are being sold by the committee as souvenirs to others than veterans, and these badges can be obtained at the following places: Miller & Rhoads, Fourteenth and Temple Co., Cohen Co., Polk Miller-Childs Co., Branch & Allen, Fourteenth and Main; Branch & Allen, No. 816 Main; Macy Wright Cigar Store, Thaw & Grant, Lexington, Richmond, Jefferson, Murphy's and Ford's Hotel cigar stands; O. H. Berry & Co., at W. D. Crenshaw, Inc. The price is 50 cents each. These badges are sold for the benefit of the reunion fund.

Dr. Charles H. Ryland, secretary of Richmond College, has notified those in charge of the reunion that President Bontwright will tender to the aged veterans of the Soldiers' Home the privilege of dining on the college campus on the day of the two parades, so that they may join the processions at this point.

This privilege, which is gratefully accepted, will enable the Soldiers' Home veterans to see practically all of the two parades, and to overtax their strength by a long march, and, moreover, it will afford them a good, cool resting place during the ceremonies incident to the unveiling of the Stuart Monument.

Reunion Notes.

Among the vanguard of the Kentucky contingent, which already have arrived in the city, is Capt. H. A. Tyler, former commander of Company A, Twelfth Kentucky Cavalry. He hails from Hickman, Ky., and is stopping at the Jefferson Hotel.

The following members of Stonewall Camp, C. V., have signified their intention to attend the reunion: Col. Wm. H. Stewart, Sergeant Jno. W. Porter, Private D. A. Williams, Private C. W. Walker, Sergeant L. P. Slater, Lieutenant R. C. Marshall, Private S. Y. Browne, Adjutant James F. Crocker, Private W. B. Lynch, Private Williamson Smith, Lieutenant Thomas Shannon, Private J. K. Langhorne, Private J. H. Porter, Private W. H. McMorrey, Private J. H. Archer, Sergeant F. J. Nicholson, Private S. J. Newby, Sergeant R. L. Harris, Private V. H. Dunford, Private Jno E. Foreman, Private Elvington Knott, Private Wm. T. Dewberry, Private Jno A. Blount.

COMMON SENSE

Leads most intelligent people to use only medicines of known composition. Therefore it is that Dr. Pierce's medicines, the makers of which print every ingredient entering into them upon the bottle wrapper, are the only medicines to be relied upon. Being wholly made of the active medicinal principles extracted from natural forest roots, by exact processes original with Dr. Pierce, and without the use of a drop of alcohol, triple-refined and chemically pure glycerine being used instead in extracting and preserving the curative virtues residing in the roots. These medicines are entirely free from the objection of doing harm by creating an appetite for either alcoholic beverages or habit-forming drugs. Examine the formula on their bottle wrappers—the same as sworn to by Dr. Pierce, and you will find the facts.

"Golden Medical Discovery," the great blood-purifier, stomach tonic and bowel regulator—the medicine which, while not recommended to cure consumption in its advanced stages (no medicine will do that), yet cures all those catarrhal conditions of head and throat, weak stomach, torpid liver and bronchial troubles, weak lungs and hemorrhoids, which if neglected or badly treated lead up to and finally terminate in consumption.

Take the "Golden Medical Discovery" at once and it is likely to disappoint you. It will give you a thorough and rapid cure. Don't expect miracles. It won't do supernatural things. You must exercise your patience and persevere in its use for a reasonable length of time. It is not a "cure-all." The ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed have the unqualified endorsement of scores of medical leaders—better than any amount of theory or professional testimonials. They are not given away to be experimented with, but are sold by all dealers in medicines at reasonable prices.

THE WEATHER

Forecast: Virginia—Fair Tuesday, cooler in east portion; Wednesday fair, warmer in the interior; fresh northwesterly breeze. North Carolina—Fair Tuesday, cooler in east portion; Wednesday fair, warmer in the interior; fresh north to northwesterly winds.